WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has set the tempo of the Congress by firing a series of legislative recommendations in the hopper, and a busy time is ahead.

After hearing the State of the Union message the other day, I felt somewhat like "The Man Who Came to Dinner" the menu offers all kinds of dishes, they all look good, and the price seems right.

But the question is, what are we going to get? A suitable course has been pointed out, but achievements will be measured by how vigorously and actively the administration practices those things the President preaches.

His remarks in the field of foreign relations were fine, but there is something to be desired in what he said about domestic matters. We simply must with judgment, however, and with all recommendations are in and action started.

The President said many things of direct, vital interest to Florida. It is gratifying to hear him say:

"Solid friendship with our American neighbors is a cornerstone of our entire (foreign) policy."

This is something I have been preaching ever since I've been in Congress. It is hoped that the government finally is going to devote a major effort to developing inter-American trade, and strengthening friendship.

It is also pleasing to learn that the administration, like many of my colleagues in the Congress, is ready to go along with another of my proposals, as indicated by the President when he said:

"We propose more liberal tax treatment for dependent children who work for widows or for their parents, and for medical expenses."

Legislation I introduced, known as the "Working Mothers' bill" is now pending in committee. I am glad to see the administration is putting its pressure behind Hawaiian statehood, which will serve the purpose of the bill in two additional public Senators solely to maintain a Republican Senate majority, to keep power in the party leader's hands.

New Road To Be Completed

Bids for completion of the new Bacom Point-South Bay road will be requested by the State Road Board this month or in February, newly-appointed SRR Member Dave Turner has assured Rep. E. Elliott.

Turner, of Ft. Lauderdale, who represents this area of Florida on the road board, conferred here with Elliott last week.

Elliott said he pointed out to Turner that the state already has $684,000 invested in the building new road, and that Turner assured him the highway would be completed and that a call for bids would be issued this month or next.

Turner indicated, said Elliott that Palm Beach County would see the biggest road program in its history under the new road board.

BANK OF PAHOKEE GIVES '53 REPORT

The Bank of Pahokee's year-end statement of condition for 1953 reflected the lateness of the start of the growing season, but held about the same as the report for 1952, Vice President Rupert McKee said.

Loans and discounts were down from $1,778,900.37 as of Dec. 31, 1952, to $1,680,445 the same date for 1953. Cash on hand and due from banks rose from $1,343,208.11 in 1952 to $1,821,615.79 in 1953.

Deposits were up, from $4,458,847.41 last calendar year to $4,847,430.24 in the 1953 calendar year.

Canal Point Work On Playground Begun

Installation of the new playground equipment donated to Canal Point by the Hecstetter Foundation got underway this week, M. F. George, Canal Point contractor, is in charge of the work. The equipment is being installed on the playground adjoining the Community Park grounds, which the U.S. Sugar Corporation officials have allowed to be used.

Arnold Barad heads the canal Point Recreation Committee which is in charge of securing the grant of equipment. Mrs. O. H. Chastain is secretary and treasurer; Mrs. A. R. Harrington, Mrs. Leonard Maxson, William Johnson and Paul Rardin are members of the committee.

Lots Of City Bills

It may be rough paying after-holiday bills this week, but local citizens owe their city some money, too.

City Clerk Dorothy Graham said turnoffs of water because of delinquent water bills will be in force again next week, and that first quarter garbage tax became delinquent on the 10th.

Residential garbage tax is $3 per quarter, in the current period Jan. 1 - March 31, 1954, and business tax is $5 per quarter. Those who wish to save may pay for a full year, and receive a discount of $1 on residential bills and $2 on business garbage. Pickups are made twice a week in the residential area and once a day in the downtown business area.

A check is being made on delinquent business licenses, Mrs. Graham said, and business houses not having their 1954-55 licenses must purchase them.

The City Clerk reminded all dog-owners that they must present their dog's inoculation receipt when buying dog tags.

Homestead exemption blanks, which must be filled out before county and state exemptions are granted on taxes, may be obtained at Mrs. Graham's office.

Elliott To Run Again

Rep. B. Elliott will run for reelection as representative from Palm Beach County to the state legislature.

Interviewed by this newspaper, Elliott said he plans to run again because he feels the people of this county will want senior representation in what will probably be one of the most significant sessions of the legislature ever held, the 1955 session.

Reapportionment according to population and the first session to follow the special election for a governor to succeed Dan McCarty will be vital factors in the 1955 legislature, Elliott said.

The former House Speaker is a veteran of the 1945 session, when the legislature stayed in session 113 days considering the reapportionment problem.

Here Since 1922

Elliott has been in the Glades since 1922, when he came here from Tennessee. He was born in Texas.

Businesswise, the legislator has been a Ford dealer since coming to the Glades, and has ranching interests in Okeechobee.

Elliott, who became the first Speaker of the House from Palm Beach County in 1951, served the whole session without a single appeal to the chair--highly unusual in the turbulent session.

Looking back at the achievements he considers his biggest in 10 sessions of service, during the legislature, he was the author of a roll call or session, Elliott noted these:

Created CSF

His bills abolished the old Everglades Drainage District and created the Central and South Florida Flood Control District (In Elliott's first year in the legislature, he was the only freshman to be a committee vice chairman, on Drainage and Water Conservation); he is also responsible for legislation creating the Pahokee Housing Authority; creation of the Northwest Palm Beach County hospital district, and subsequently a new hospital for the Pahokee-Canal Point area; opposition to the state retail sales tax and a consistent fight against bills to increase taxes.

His bill increased old age assistance from $50 to $60 per month.

The controversial truck tag amendment which Elliott and a group of other legislators put through in 1953 which lowered the tax on trucks, and which cut the cost of some heavy private truck tags, "is paying off for the farmers now," Elliott said.

This month, during the sale of 1954 vehicle tags, the amendment - broadened "P" tags are being used, and time for trucks other than citrus, and in some cases have cut farmer's tag costs from as high as $40 to the new "P" price, Elliott said.

At his motor company, where license tags are being sold, a law issued by the state tells buyers "if your truck is used entirely for the growing and marketing of farm products, you may apply for a 'P' tag."

Elliott's committee assignments have usually included the powerful appropriations and the education committees.

In 1953 he was chairman of the drainage and water conservation committee, vice chairman of the motor vehicle and carriers committee, and served also on the appropriations, aviation, elections, engrossing, publication, rules and calendar committees.

Boat Club Planning Ft. Myers Junket

A two-day trip down the Caloosahatchee River to Ft. Myers in two weeks was planned by members of the Pahokee Boat Club at a meeting at Commodore and Mrs. E. McKinstry's home Tuesday night.

Boat Clubbers plan to make the entire trip by water, leaving Pahokee early in the morning and returning Sunday. The club also decided to buy plans for the standard racing program from the Optimist Club of Clearwater.

A colored movie, "Safety Ahoy," an Aetna educational film, was shown.

Too Many Towzers

Even our canine columnist, Schatzi the sausage-dog views with great pleasure and relief the city's promise of a "fast and furious" campaign to pick up stray and untagged dogs around the community.

Although we have not roved through fields and pastures counting the strays, we have had all too much opportunity to view them running around the town.

Worse than that, they bark at each other all night every night, with annoying regularity.

We are sure that other sleepless residents, farmers with dog-thrashed livestock, citizens who tag and take care of their dogs, and rabies-conscious parents will join with us in wishing the city great success in its campaign against stray pooches.

The bosses kept Washington Correspondent Helen Fennell too busy proofreading to help me, and the noted Life Photographer George Shadling just barely made it over from Hobe Sound for dinner, then he fled back to the coast to finish his (paid) assignment.

I had so looked forward to not putting paw to typewriter key this week.

This shattering inertia will soon pass, I presume. There is every possibility that I may be a better fed dog for a few days, as the Virginia mother is visiting us, and plainly is sympathetic with my undernourished condition.

Also, I am being allowed to sit in various chairs this week, for the front page and the other surface of my usual footstool.

Isn't it wonderful what mothers can do?

Farm Experts Look Ahead; See Big Food Needs Facing Nation in 1960

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The agricultural industry, like so many others, has had its share of peaks and valleys during the present year. Still it has held firm to a continuing trend of making farm work would have been impossible to reach. At that time farmers plowed an average of 2 acres a day, instead of around 20 acres a day, and cultivated 6, rather than 10 acres of corn per day. It's the same story around the farmstead where electricity is taking on a greater number of chores, and doing

In the decade after 1940, the number of farms with electricity doubled; combines and corn pickers more than tripled; milking machines quadrupled; crop yields per acre and live-stock production per animal unit rose. Now the farmer asks, what's ahead? Crystal balls may be a bit clouded for 1954, but they clear up remarkably well when the experts look to 1960. By that time, it is predicted, the population of the United States will have increased to about 177,000,000. To eat as well in 1960 as the nation is eating today will require an additional 2,000,000,000 pounds of meat; 800,000,000 dozen more eggs; about 5,000,000,000 pounds more of whole milk; several hundred million more bushels of feed grain, and corresponding increases in requirements for fruits, vegetables and other foods. Forty years ago such high goals them faster and easier. A silo un-loader, for example, can reduce the time of getting down silage for a 24-cow herd from 10 minutes to about 10 seconds. Cleaning barn gutters with a mechanical gutter cleaner or high pressure hose can be done in 5 minutes, compared with 22 minutes in a barn housing about 25 cows. The endless job of carrying water for stock can be turned over to a pressure water system, and worries about weather damage to grain and forage crops practically eliminated by new drying equipment.

In the home, farmers are using electricity for cooking, heating water, refrigerating, washing, ironing and drying clothes; they're enjoying radio and TV, and reading by electric lights just as their city cousins do. Indeed, the farm of today is a great place on which to live; it should be an even better place in the future.

Mrs. E. S. Parnell had parts on the program. Fay Taylor circle met at the home of Mrs. Ellis Wilkinson with Mrs. Wallace Barnes, chairman, in charge. Mrs. D. W. Young presented the program assisted by Mrs. Strickland. Mrs. Will present the program at the WMU business meeting.

Mrs. Paul Rardin, Canal Point, plans to return to her home this weekend from Glenview, Ga., if her mother, Mrs. W. O. Strickland, continues to show improvement. Mrs. Strickland was dismissed from Oglethorpe Sanitarium, Savannah, Saturday.

Master-Guide power steering does up to 75% of your steering work, yet leaves you with natural steering "feel" on the straightaways. Swift Sure Power Brakes do up to one-third of the work in stopping. Fordomatic Drive gives torque converter smoothness and the "Go" of automatic mechanical gears. And only Ford in its field offers Power-Lift Windows, both front and rear, that open or close at a button's touch... and a 4-Way Power Seat that adjusts up and down, as well as front and back, at a touch of the controls. They're all worth-while optional extras available in the 1954 Ford!

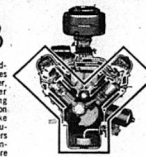

*At extra cost. F.C.A.

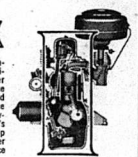

PERFORMANCE DIVIDEND

Y-BLOCK V-8

An extra-deep skirt extending below crankshaft gives greater rigidity for smoother, quieter operation, longer engine life. New 115-h.p.
I-BLOCK SIX

This new Six has an extra-deep block for greater rigidity, smoother, quieter performance, longer engine life. Free-turning overhead valves, high-turbulence combustion chambers, low-friction design and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot help produce 14% more power... with finer performance on even less gas.

No car in the low-price field has ever offered so many "Worth More" features as the '54 Ford. In addition to all the features that have already established Ford as the "Worth More" car, you now get a host of brand new dividends. These include a choice of two new deep-block engines... the most modern engines in the industry. Family Flourishing

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida family of antique flivvers is getting bigger as the years pass, with 200 old cars in Palm Beach County alone.

The number of 20-year-old automobiles went past the 10, 195 mark last year a lot faster than some of them can run, the Florida Highway Patrol is already making its annual inspection of the antiques — said.

All antique autos must have the $5 "Q" tags on or before the February 20 deadline. Each must be inspected by the State Highway Patrol before a tag can be purchased, according to the FHP. Captain C. E. Taylor, administrative assistant of the Patrol, said of all things the antiques should have and don't, hand brakes, stop lights, and windshield wipers come in absent more often than any other.

The Patrol has inspected the antique models since 1948. Here are some of the "musts" with which the old cars must conform to get a tag: foot brakes, hand brake, rear and stop lights and a light to illuminate the license tag, safe tires, steering wheel system and horn, rear view mirror, windshield wiper, muffler and exhaust system.

ROCKLAND, MASS.—Foot troubles of a serious nature are on the increase in the United States, especially among women and children. This is attributed to the habit of many women of going without hosiery in the summer and the fact that many children are allowed to wear outgrown hosiery or shoes, according to a recent survey by the National Foot Health Council here.

The survey indicates that nearly all doctors frown on the wearing of a shoe at any time without the protection afforded by hosiery. Out of 1,000 doctors questioned, only 24 thought such practice safe. Among the reasons for the doctors insisting on foot protection at all times was that it is impossible to keep the inside of the shoes clean enough to avoid danger of infection.

Dr. Joseph Leljevald, chairman of the council, said over 1,600 doctors were of the opinion that outgrown hosiery and shoes caused serious foot defects in children. These included in-grown nails, large joints, hammer toes and weak feet.

Children's socks always should be at least a half-inch longer than the foot. The majority of the doctors questioned think hosiery should be changed twice a day whenever possible.

BABY FEEDING

Before parents, especially young ones having little or no experience with babies, decide to follow a "demand" feeding schedule for their infant, it would be wise to discuss the program with their doctor. Demand feeding is based on the idea that babies should not be kept on a strictly regulated schedule but be fed when they appear to want and desire it.

This type feeding program is not to be condemned, but one of its greatest drawbacks seems to be that many parents are not able to decide whether the baby is simply hungry every time he cries. If they follow it rigidly, some entirely different problem, perhaps serious in nature, might be overlooked.

Demand feeding tends to upset the entire household routine and excite the parents beyond reasonable limits the importance of the child. It may be the first step to later development of far too much latitude in general behavior.

During illness of the child, it may become necessary to follow a strict program of feeding and medication. Parents accustomed to the demand plan may have trouble making the necessary adjustments.

At the other extreme is the strictly regulated feeding schedule which follows the baby's crying by the clock. This one is equal in drawbacks to demand feeding and overlooks the fact that the baby is an individual who may not prefer to eat at each time food is offered him.

Actually a course midway between the two programs is desirable. It is well to know the number of hours since the baby had food. This may indicate to the mother his reason for crying. If only a short time, she will know he is not hungry and that something else is making him uncomfortable.

Yet at times as with most individuals, he will need a second feeding and demand it by crying. The seemingly tiny bit more she offers will bring smiling satisfaction.

'GROWING OLD' IS FEB. 23 TOPIC

The sixth and last free medical forum sponsored by the County Medical Society and County Health Department may prove to be the most popular for the topic is "Growing Old Gracefully".

This will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 23 at the Palm Beach high school auditorium, and will include Dr. E. C. Johnson of Pahokee.

"Who doesn't want to grow old gracefully? We all do and perhaps the panel selected to handle this topic will shed some light on the ways and means of combating old age. No one should be upset by the years creeping up on them," commented Dr. W. E. Van Landingham, moderator for this topic.

Such questions as "Should old people at their age?" and "At what age should one consider himself old?" or take "What is the best climate for those growing old?" and "Do old people require more sleep?" will be among the questions posed by Dr. Van Landingham. On the panel are Dr. H. D. Atkinson, Dr. W. George, Dr. Johnson, Dr. O. L. Kelley, Dr. C. A. Robinson and Dr. H. G. Rose. Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive director of the Heart Association of Palm Beach County is secretary for the forum.

LEGION HEARS ITS RESOLUTION SUPPORTED

Letters from the Glades area's entire Congressional delegation, favoring hospitalization for veterans with non-service connected disabilities, were reported by Pahokee American Legion Commander Melvin Spooner Monday night.

The local post some time ago passed a resolution favoring continuation of this type of hospitalization for veterans and had sent copies of the resolution to Senators Holland and Smathers and Rep. Dwight Rogers. The legislators wrote that they would keep the post informed on developments in the current fight to stop the non-service hospitalization.

BLOCKED EARS

No amount of poking or rubbing will help the sensation of a blocked ear. It is a common complaint whose exact diagnosis requires a complete investigation of all parts of the ear.

To hear normally, all parts of the ear must function properly. The sound wave has to enter the ear canal and strike the ear drum. The ear drum vibrates and moves three little bones, or ossicles, causing the vibration to be transmitted across the middle ear cavity to the inner ear. In the inner ear the nerves are stimulated and this stimulation is converted to an impulse which travels to the brain and is interpreted as sound.

Any interference with the conduction of the sound wave will cause hearing loss even if the nerve elements, the middle and inner ear are normal.

In order that the ear drum may vibrate freely, air pressure on both sides of it must be equal. This is the main function of the eustachian tube.

Normally the eustachian tube is closed only to be pulled open by the interrelated action of muscles of the tube, the soft palate, and the pharynx or throat. It is pulled open by a swallow, yawn or sneeze, permitting air to escape from or enter the middle cavity. Any interference with the ability of the tube to open will prevent this free exchange. Air is gradually absorbed from the middle ear and the difference in pressure it creates actually causes the ear drum to be pushed in, restricting its freedom of vibration.

When this occurs, there is usually loss of hearing and the ear has a feeling of fullness.

Other factors which may produce the sensation of blocked ears are infection, allergies, abnormal growth, ear tissue, certain dental defects, and an accumulation of wax. To eradicate the cause, a complete examination is essential.

QUANTITY ORDERS CUT UNIT COSTS

COST PER PLANE FOR FIRST 50 PLANES DELIVERED

COST PER PLANE FOR NEXT 500 PLANES DELIVERED

Unit costs go up when aircraft are ordered in small quantities—and go down when they are produced in substantial volume. Typical of savings being realized by the military services through quantity orders is the case of a modern jet plane now being flown by the Air Force. The first 50 planes cost approximately 65 per cent more per unit than did the following 500.
